

BIO

Carol Radsprecher was born and still resides in Brooklyn, New York; her studio is in Manhattan. She received her MFA in painting from Hunter College in 1988. Her work has appeared in several solo exhibits: March 2015, in Victory Hall Drawing Rooms; March 2014, in Rogue Community College Gallery, Grants Pass, Oregon; August 2013, in The Alliance Gallery at the Delaware Valley Arts Center, Narrowsburg, NY; in May 2012 in Metropolitan Community College's Next Gallery; in 2006 at Pierro Gallery at South Orange, South Orange, NJ; in 2002 at the Garrison Art Center, Garrison, NY; in 2001 at Thompson Park Art Exhibition Series. Her paintings and inkjet prints have been included in numerous group shows. She has received several awards for her work and has paintings in many private collections. Reproductions of her work have appeared in literary and art publications (print or online). Her work is in the White Columns Artist Registry.